When I cannot personally shoot a wedding I send my best photographer. I've known Chris for around a decade now and we've shot dozens of weddings together. He shoots with a similar style to myself. Emphasis on correct color, temperature, exposure and capturing the moments that you'll want to remember forever. He's someone who I can trust to show up and get the work done.

Chris shoots with two cameras to multiple memory cards, has an assortment of lens and over a decade of shooting weddings and well versed in lighting and getting people to smile at the right times.

Visit his website to see more of his work and feel free to contact either myself or Chris to ask more questions or get more information on booking.

So here's how this works.

I take care of the paper work.
The contract and initial discussions.

Introduction to Chris.
You can either meet Chris via Zoom or FaceTime or when you you have your engagement shoot.

Chris shoots your engagement shoot.
Photos delivered within a week.

Before the wedding you fill out a form with all the details of your wedding day. Chris will do a follow up call to go over everything and get ready for the big day.

Chris shoots the wedding and reception.
You receive around two dozen photos on the night of the wedding.

Photos completed within a month of the wedding day. (So long as payment has been completed)
